Dear Ms. Reed:

This is in response to your letter of 25 January 1977 inviting nominations from this Agency for the 1977 Rockefeller Public Service Awards program.

After a thorough review of possible candidates within the Agency, it is our decision not to submit a nominee this year. However, I want to thank you for affording the Agency the opportunity to participate in this valuable program and to assure you of our continuing interest and support.

Sincerely,

(SIGNED) F. W. M. Janney

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Administration

FROM : F. W. M. Janney
Director of Personnel

SUBJECT : Rockefeller Public Service Awards

Jack:

This memorandum offers suggestions in regard to the invitation to nominate candidates for the Rockefeller Public Service Awards.

The seven criteria established for guidance in nominating candidates for the Rockefeller Awards practically rule out nominations from CIA. The criteria relate to various facets of domestic public service, in the public and private sectors, in which Agency employees have no experience and in which they have not established professional reputations.

As you know, the Agency has passed on the Rockefeller Awards previously. I recommend that, in view of the unlikelihood of our ability to nominate a candidate who would have a chance to qualify for this Award, we "pass" again this year.

January 25, 1977

To: Persons Interested in Outstanding Public Service

From: Ingrid W. Reed
Administrative Director
Rockefeller Public Service Awards

The Rockefeller Public Service Awards program, for the second year, will honor outstanding achievements in public service--at the local, state or national level--in the public or private sector.

Nominations of extraordinary work are sought in critical problem areas facing our nation. Those identified for the 1977 program are:

1. Expansion of employment opportunities
2. Administration of justice and reduction of crime
3. Conservation and development of natural resources and protection of environment
4. Revitalization of communities and neighborhoods
5. Promotion of health, improved delivery of health services, and control of health costs
6. Reduction of the serious imbalance between population growth and food supplies
7. Enhancing partnership between the public and private sectors in the public interest

It is anticipated that five awards of $10,000 will be made.

The enclosed brochure describes this nationally-known program, including information about the nomination process.

Your interest is extremely important in identifying persons who have made outstanding contributions in public service. We thank you for your help and cooperation.
